Antarang’s story is woven with the aspirations of thousands of young adults—much like the intricate folds and creases of a paper plane, each representing the potential and power of an education. Powered by the commitment to values of care, excellence, youth-centricity, inclusivity, and collaboration, we have answered the question we asked ourselves a decade ago, "Should aspirations be exclusive to the privileged few? How do we ensure that a 15-year-old, a first-generation learner in a government school, believes in the transformative power of education to better their life prospects?". Since then, we have enabled career aspirations for more than 185,000 young students and realised our vision of ensuring that each young adult is passionately, positively and productively, in careers of their choice.

In 2022, Antarang’s journey saw a definitive pivot, a number of achievements, and invaluable insights. We embarked on Antarang 2.0. This new model combined two modules earlier run separately as one 4-year-long education-integrated model delivering career awareness and readiness to high school students.

Our mission to reach and impact on the scale we envision, where all students from government-run and government-aided high schools have access to quality career education, requires a holistic approach. This involves integrating career education into state secondary school curriculums and creating a sustained community of practice on the ground. In the past year, we forged strong partnerships with six sector partners and five government allies, collectively impacting the lives of over 50,000 students in one year and more than 185,000 students in the past decade.

The post-pandemic landscape of education and employment is evolving rapidly. We’ve always been adaptable, and in response to these changes, we launched a 24/7 Career Chatbot. This WhatsApp-based bot provides on-demand information and support, helping students craft clear career plans and transition effectively after 10th and 12th standard. This year, we reached over 30,000 users through the chatbot, extending our reach beyond the students enrolled in the program.

Our Career Facilitators play a pivotal role in our programs, offering guidance and counselling on career awareness and readiness. To empower these facilitators with ongoing learning opportunities, we introduced a Learning Management System. In the past year, we trained and deployed 143 facilitators, strengthening our program’s impact.

The academic year 2022-23 marked the first full year post-COVID, and it came with its share of challenges. Schools grappled with the transition back to familiar routines, and job opportunities slowly returned to pre-pandemic levels.

Despite the setbacks and triumphs, the resilient team at Antarang is more determined than ever to realize our shared vision. Our commitment remains: to ensure that 2.5 million students make informed career choices and have equal opportunities to pursue aspirational careers, free from the constraints of socioeconomic barriers.

2023-24 will see the model operating at scale with all our partners across 5 states in India. We eagerly anticipate the coming year with renewed hope and strengthened resolve to bring equity to the world of work.

Foreword
From the founder’s desk

Antarang’s story is woven with the aspirations of thousands of young adults—much like the intricate folds and creases of a paper plane, each representing the potential and power of an education. About Antarang

Who are we?
We are a 10-year-old organisation that works at the intersection of education and work, empowering youth to be able to make informed career decisions of their choice.

What do we do?
We work with youth between the ages of 14-25 from marginalised socio-economic backgrounds across India to provide them with the awareness and the ability to make informed and aspirational career decisions and enable them to access opportunities that would help them realise their aspirations.
Antarang Foundation envisions a world in which every young person is passionately, productively, and positively engaged in a career of their choice.

By 2030, Antarang Foundation will help 25 lakh youth between Grades 9 to 12 (14 - 18 years old) through the formal education system to ensure that they stay in education and are on a trajectory to a career of their choice.

Our Values

Youth Centricity: We keep youth, their voice and changing circumstances at the center of everything we do.

Excellence: We achieve excellence through high-quality delivery, resilience, continuous improvement and innovation.

Collaboration: We work with all our stakeholders to achieve a common purpose by sharing information easily, involving them at every step and communicating clearly.

Care: We care about youth, each other and our work and interact with our stakeholders with compassion.

Inclusivity: We continuously ensure that we are a diverse and inclusive organisation by providing equal access to opportunities and resources for people who might otherwise be excluded or marginalised.
India has the largest youth population in the world—every 1 in 4 people are between the age of 15-29. According to UNFPA projections, India will continue to have one of the youngest populations in the world till 2030.\(^1\)

253 Million That’s how many youth are to make the school-to-work transition and navigate into their first paid work opportunity, but it is riddled with breakpoints, obstacles and challenges, especially for vulnerable youth of this country.\(^2\)

High dropout rates post high school largely due to academic or financial challenges

Limited access to knowledge or awareness of post school or college opportunities

Inability to make informed and clear career plans

For every 100 students that enter the education system in India, only 25 finish 12th grade.

And less than 5% of the total workforce has undergone formal skill training\(^3\)

\(^1\) UNFPA
\(^2\) UNICEF
\(^3\) National Sample Survey Organisation
Since 2013, Antarang has been committed to helping youth make informed and aspirational transitions.

To bridge the gap, it is crucial to help disadvantaged youth be able to aspire, build awareness and ability and have access to transition to the working landscape.

Our work inspires aspirational careers for adolescents through a 4-year Career Guidance and Readiness Program that is integrated into high school curriculum in government and government aided schools for grades 9-12.

Year 7
The connect between students and Antarang grew, and it led us to reimagine our role and goals.

Year 8
We should set high goals.

Year 9
Families were provided with food, internet, recharge packs, and scholarships to continue their education.
Family members assisted with job placements.
We learnt that any hurdle can be crossed with patience and support, and with this confidence, we forged ahead into new territories.

Year 10
As we expand and reach more youth, and we look forward to your continued support!

Shivam Jaiswal, Alumni
CareeReady Batch 2020-21

I would like to link my Antarang journey with my career journey. Antarang not only helped me explore the multiple career options available but also helped me choose which fields would be best according to my aptitude. Antarang also helped me create connections and learn from them which resulted in career growth. I am grateful to Antarang for their invaluable learning which is still helping me grow in my career- like having a growth mindset rather than a fixed mindset, creating good connections with people, finding opportunities and giving my best. To me, Antarang is a great mentor.

Sheetal Rathod, Alumni
CareeReady Batch 2020-21

As they say, the journey of a thousand miles begins with one step. So, my journey of taking that first step began with enrolling myself with Antarang. When I attended the first session, it was a day full of excitement and hopes, experiencing the real meaning of life. The journey has been awesome. I can see a better version of myself now compared to earlier. I have learned a lot from the Antarang Foundation, for which I am grateful. It has provided me with the kind of support I needed to turn my dreams into reality. Sometimes, it’s the journey that teaches you a lot about your destination, and I have learned a lot while experiencing the wonderful journey from a timid girl to a bold woman. I would like to sum this up in one word: For me, Antarang means ‘Nurturing’.
My journey with Antarang has been a solid long-term relationship right from the beginning. Speaking about the fellow facilitators, there has been good enthusiasm and an enjoyable camaraderie, where we call upon each other for support. Nevertheless, the team has always been very supportive and ready to help. I see a strong attachment of all the employees with Antarang. And last but not the least, the students. It has given me immense satisfaction to interact with them and be their guide on their journey. Over the years, I have been a learner with these students. They have a lot of mischievousness which just needs to be polished. I take pride in calling myself a facilitator with Antarang.

For me, Antarang is a place that provides you with the space to grow. It is a place where everyone is respected and given the confidence to work. I have always admired their mission, culture, and goals.
For me, Antarang is all about one's choice and freedom and being self-reliant. It gives the employees the flexibility to be creative, experiment and contribute largely to the most critical tasks. It provides a sense of ownership and responsibility on every employee right from the founder to the interns working here.

I also appreciate the way we not only focus on our goals but also care for each one's mental stability through its culture and initiatives undertaken at various points of time.

It has been amazing to see Antarang grow from a small set-up to becoming an incredible team over the last 5 to 6 years. It has been great to see the team grapple with complex organisational issues and come up with unique solutions that have scaled up their capacity as an institution. It has been very gratifying to see the impact Antarang has made on the ground. Stories of Antarang alumni and how they have succeeded in changing their life narratives have been incredible. I have also seen the compassionate and caring culture evolve within Antarang. This alone will equip them to solve problems with even greater impact in the years to come.

I think Antarang for me embodies care and compassion for the children who can find the passion that drives them towards new horizons. Antarang for me also embodies a caring culture amongst its team, a belief that we are solving complex problems together.
Raja, a 27-year-old filmmaker, sat down with us to share his journey of exploring and identifying his passion. From a clueless youth to working as an Assistant Director in a Dharma Production movie, this is the story of a young boy who dared to dream.

In 2014, at the age of 17, Raja found himself part of Antarang’s CareeReady program. He had dreams but didn’t know how to reach them. Raja’s parents are from Chennai, and like several others in search of a better life and future for their family, migrated to Mumbai in the 1970s. However, his family’s financial constraints seemed to confine him to traditional jobs in the informal sector, the common path for students in government schools like his.

Raja recalls, "Mujhe pata nahi tha ki main kya banna chahta hoon, bas yeh jaanta tha ki kahaaniyan likhna aur batana mujhe bahut pasand tha" (I didn’t know what I wanted to become, but I knew one thing – I loved writing and telling stories).

It was in the 12th grade that Raja’s life took a crucial turn. He became a part of Antarang’s CareeReady program, where mentors visited communities to help young students identify their passions and potential career paths. Raja had never considered pursuing a Bachelor of Mass Media (BMM), like others his inclination was towards a Bachelor of Science degree since he believed that would lead him to a decent job. His mentor, Nardev sir convinced him that BMM could build a good career as well, and his financial circumstances shouldn’t prevent his dreams from coming true. Nardev sir’s words, "Jugaad lagane se kuch bhi ho sakta hai" (anything is possible through unconventional means), resonated with Raja.

One very important element of the program was listening to previous batch graduates, like Raj Mohan, who’s now an executive producer at Zee Studios. Raja now reflects on how his own journey closely mirrored Raj’s, coming from a similar community and getting his big break when a filmmaker, who saw his short films, hired him.
Raja always believed that entering the film industry required substantial investments in courses, equipment and training. However, Nardev sir’s Advice, as well as hearing Raj Mohan’s story guided him towards alternative paths. Raja adds with a bright smile on his face, "I realized that if Raj Mohan, with a similar background and government school education like mine, could reach such heights, so could I."

In 2016, Raja started as an editor, learning on the job. After working for three years at an ad agency, the pandemic brought everything to a halt. During this time, he ventured into making short films and started Creative Photoplay where he published a short film, ‘The Bicycle Tales,’ which has over 1.73 lakh views on YouTube now.

Raja fondly remembers how he stumbled into an opportunity as an Assistant Director in a Dharma Productions movie, "A friend told me about a job opening as an Assistant Director who could speak Tamil. I wasn't particularly interested, but with nothing else on my plate, I decided to give it a shot. To my surprise, it turned out to be for Dharma production. I remember feeling underdressed in my casual shorts; I had no idea it was such a big production house."

In his defence, reading just four lines in a WhatsApp message didn't reveal the full picture. He had assumed it was an independent film. The movie was "Meenakshi Sundareshwar", which you can still find on Netflix. Within days, Raja went from being unemployed to working in a prestigious production house.

Raja’s journey has been exhilarating. Now he runs his own studio, where he focuses on editing work, collaborates with fellow editors, and continues his venture into short filmmaking.

“Antarang’s career program came into my life when I needed it the most. I was extremely shy, introverted, and lacked confidence due to my background. Public speaking terrified me. However, the CareeReady course transformed me. I missed numerous opportunities due to the fear of embarrassment, but the program helped me build confidence and improve my people skills.”

When asked what advice he’d give his 17-year-old self, Raja responded, “You don’t need to change anything; just have confidence and self-belief. Mere paas kuch nahi tha, relevant skills bhi shayad nahi the itne (I had nothing, maybe not even the relevant skills when I started), but I believed in myself, and I seized every opportunity that came my way.”

Youth Advisory Board

To ensure that youth play a central role in all our decisions, we established a Youth Advisory Board (YAB) in the year 2021-22. The YAB comprises diverse and passionate young individuals from various backgrounds, representing different communities and interests. The primary goal of the YAB is to provide valuable insights, perspectives, and recommendations on issues affecting young people, acting as a vital bridge between youth and decision-makers.

Over the past year, they have engaged in over 30 hours of discussions and meetings. The Youth Advisory Board has made significant contributions to our Alumni Engagement Strategy, Program Curriculum, Career Chatbot and Facilitator Outreach.

I joined as a 9th grader in high school, with no idea as to how an organisation works. All I had in mind was that I wanted to serve my community. And today as I look back — 2 years later, with the hope of continuing my journey — I realise that serving in AF’s YAB taught me more than I can ever imagine.

From interacting with different members of the Youth Advisory Board, to participating in webinars held by WHO and Antarang, or even conducting survey phone calls- my fellow YAB members, Zeenat, Zehra, Venil and Priya, they all taught me something. Today I’ve understood how Antarang works and have had the opportunity to provide my insights on how it can be improved. And to me, that made it all worth it.

Our 24/7 WhatsApp chatbot is a game-changer in career guidance, delivering a wealth of information directly to students’ fingertips. From interest and aptitude tests to admission and scholarship details, the chatbot offers a wide range of resources. Students can also explore workshops, courses, job opportunities, and upskilling options. Additionally, they can learn from others’ experiences and engage in career-related games, all conveniently accessible at their fingertips.

In 2022-23, new features were added such as the ability to add more user profiles on a single number, improving user experience by making it more interactive, adding more game flows, and enhancing the self-awareness and career-awareness section of the chatbot.

I find the Antarang chatbot to be incredibly informative and user-friendly. It provides the option to take skill tests, explore different career paths, and discover various courses, making it an outstanding tool. I am delighted to have the opportunity to use it, and I want to express my gratitude. Thank you so much!

Looking Ahead
In 2022-23, we celebrated our 10-year milestone with pride, knowing that each of these years has been a fold in the paper plane of our commitment to our youth and their aspirations. We unfolded countless stories of transformation, aspirations coming to life, and careers taking flight – all represented by the paper planes we’ve meticulously crafted together.

As we grow, we are filled with gratitude for the support of our stakeholders, partners, volunteers, and the entire Antarang community. Your collective efforts have been the wind beneath our wings, propelling us forward.

This year as we expand to new geographies, we continue to keep our youth in the centre and ensure we move to a world where they are passionately, productively, and positively engaged in a career of their choice.

Thank you!
What Does the Future Hold?

#1 Empower Adolescents in 24 Districts for Informed Transitions:
Enable students in grades 9-12 in government schools across Maharashtra, Goa, Nagaland, Rajasthan, and Haryana to make informed transitions into education, training, employment, or entrepreneurship in 2023-34.

#2 Support EEET Access for Youth:
Facilitate youth access to industry interactions, internships, and courses to further their Education, Employment, Entrepreneurship, or Training (EEET) and achieve their career aspirations.

#3 Strengthen School-to-Work Ecosystem:
Foster a robust ecosystem for seamless school-to-work transitions through product development and government partnerships, enabling effective transitions for young adults.

#4 Government Accountability for Informed Career Transitions:
Promote government accountability in guiding and supporting informed career transitions post-10th and 12th grades.
